Visa options

The Skill Select program

The Skill Select program, formerly known as the General Skilled Migration program or Points tested program, is a migration program based on the economic needs of Australia. This program supports the Australian Government's immigration policies and indicates who can apply and in what numbers.

This program is also designed to address regional skill shortages by allowing intending migrations to indicate if they are willing to live and work in regional Australia.

The SkillSelect program is conducted online and intending migrants submit an Expression of Interest (EOI) which then goes into a Skills Matching database. Employers and State and Territory governments may then use the database to find, nominate or invite intending migrants to apply for visas. If you are successful, you will be invited to apply for a visa. It should be noted that the EOI is not a valid application for a visa and therefore does not provide you with bridging visas if you are onshore.

The minimum pass mark for an invitation is 60, however this Program is subject to occupation ceilings and each State is subject to their own quotas in regards to how many invitations they can issue a year.

The Department conducts 2 invitation rounds a month, issuing a set number of invitations to apply. Generally invitations to apply are issued to the highest point EOI of the occupation pool and therefore it is in an applicant's best interest to prove as many points as they can in their EOI.

You must have a positive Skills Assessment and proof of English language ability to submit an EOI.

✓ Skilled Independent (subclass 189) visa

You satisfy most of the basic requirements of this visa however you are eligible for 60 points based on the information you provided. The minimum pass mark in order to submit an EOI for your occupation is 60.

There are ways to improve your chances of getting an invitation. Please talk to us and we can assist and advise you of the methods to increase your point score in order to give you the highest chance of being invited to apply.

✓ Skilled Nominated (subclass 190) visa

Under State or Territory Nomination you are committed to living in the nominating State or Territory for at least the first 2 years of your time in Australia. Different State and Territories also have additional requirements that you must meet in order to obtain a nomination, for instances, proof of financial support.

Note: Applying for one visa does not preclude you from applying for the other. You may apply for a subclass 189 and 190 at the same time and whichever is granted first will put the other application on hold until you have made a decision to accept, decline or withdraw.

You satisfy most of the basic requirements of this visa and you are eligible for 65 points based on the information you provided and with a State nominating you.

Your nominated occupation is in demand in 2 States and Territory. With State sponsorship you must commit to living in that State for at least the first 2 years of your time in Australia.

There are ways to improve your chances of getting an invitation. Please talk to us and we can assist and advise you of the methods to increase your point score in order to give you the highest chance of being invited to apply.

✓ Skilled Nominated or Sponsored (Regional)(subclass 489)

This points based visa is for skilled workers who are nominated by a State or Territory or sponsored by an eligible relative living in a designated area in Australia. A designated area in Australia is usually outside of the city centres and in regional areas.

You have stated that you do not have any Australian permanent residents or citizens as relatives.

Currently there are no States or Territory requiring your nominated occupation in a regional area, however, policy and quotas are reset around end of June and early July so there may be options under this visa in the near future.

✓ Temporary Work (Skilled)(subclass 457) visa

This is commonly known as being sponsored by an employer. This is dependent on an employer sponsoring you to work in their company for a period of up to 4 years.

You must have a job offer from a business operating in Australia to be eligible for this visa. This is a temporary visa option that can lead to Permanent residency.

✓ Working Holiday Visa (subclass 417)

You are from an eligible country and meet age requirements.
